

On January 14, the International Laboratory for Logic, Linguistics and Formal Philosophy (National Research University Higher School of Economics, Russian Federation, Moscow) participated in the celebration of the third edition of the World Logic Day.

LLFP organized the Zoom-Workshop "Logic in the Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus: A Century of Interpretations".

The workshop was dedicated to the centenary of the publication of Ludwig Wittgenstein's Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus.

The following talks were presented:

Ahti-Veikko Pietarinen (Tallinn University of Technology, HSE University) Philosophy of Notation in the Tractatus

Elia Zardini (Complutense University of Madrid, HSE University) Identity and Variables in the Tractatus

Zinaida Sokuler (Lomonosov Moscow State University) On the Relation between Logic and Mathematics in the Tractatus: the Notions of Formal Serie, Operation, General Form of Proposition, and the Definition of Number

Elena Dragalina-Chernaya (HSE University) Internal Relations in the Logical Space: from the Tractatus to Remarks on Colour

Vladimir Vasyukov (Institute of Philosophy, Russian Academy of Sciences, HSE University) "Wittgensteinian" Intentional AI

Logic in the Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus: A Century of Interpretations